The main map displays a detailed view of land parcels and management zones in the Cariboo-Chilcotin Natural Resource District. The map is overlaid with a coordinate grid. Various land parcels are labeled with identifiers such as R08994 75-A, R07711 163-A, and REC2600. The map shows a mix of land uses, including private land, Indian reserves, federal land, and various management zones like growth and yield plots, research installations, and conservation lands. The map also shows roads, trails, and other features like public roads and active road permits. The map is color-coded to represent different land types and management zones, with a legend on the left side providing a key for the colors and symbols used.
