

Submission Process

This quick reference card contains a listing of the procedures to follow in updating spatial information in an FSP, or amendment, that has been submitted to the FSP Tracking System. This card does not include information for submitting or updating other types of information such as stocking standards, supporting documents, etc. Information for submitting information other than spatial information can be found in the “Submitting an FSP User Guide” or “Amending an Approved FSP User Guide” available on the FSP Tracking System website at: <http://www.for.gov.bc.ca/his/fsp/userGuides/>.

The procedures listed below use the eziLink application to create an XML/GML file containing the necessary information for submission through the Electronic Submission Framework (ESF) to the FSP Tracking System.

The following procedures start with the eziLink application and continue until the XML/GML file is created. Information on submitting the XML/GML file can be found in the “Submitting an FSP User Guide” or “Amending an Approved FSP User Guide” available on the FSP Tracking System website at: <http://www.for.gov.bc.ca/his/fsp/userGuides/>. NOTE: To submit the XML/GML file, the submitter will need an access role of “submitter” for the client corresponding to the FSP. Contact Grant Neville at: Grant.Neville@gov.bc.ca to obtain this access.

This quick reference card references a supporting document titled the “District Checklist (update spatial information)”. This District Checklist should be completed by the personnel reviewing the FSP, or amendment, and provided to the Geomatics staff who are loading the spatial information. All the information the Geomatics staff will need to complete the spatial submission is contained in the District Checklist and this quick reference card.

Submitting Spatial Information to the FSP Tracking System

The table below lists the access roles and corresponding functionality within the FSP Tracking System for submitting spatial information in a range of statuses from “draft” to “approved”. NOTE: this quick reference card only provides procedures for updating FSPs and amendments with a status of “submitted”.

A screenshot of the "ezilink - Demo Mode" application window. The "Submission Wizard" dialog box is open, showing the "ESF Submission Metadata" step. It prompts the user to "Enter the email address and telephone number of the person who will be responsible for this submission." There are two input fields: "Email:" with the text "geomatrics.staff@gov.bc.ca" and "Telephone:" with the text "2509999999". At the bottom of the dialog are three buttons: "< Back", "Next >", and "Cancel". A green arrow points from the "Next >" button to a text box on the right, and another green arrow points from the "Email:" field to a text box above it.

Step 3a:

Enter the e-mail address and telephone number of the person submitting the spatial information (e.g., Geomatics personnel).

A screenshot of the "Submission Wizard" dialog box within the "ezilink - Demo Mode" application. The dialog box has a title bar with a close button. Below the title bar is a menu bar with "File", "Edit", "View", "Layer", "Category", "Tools", "Project", "Window", and "Help". The main area is titled "FSP Submission Metadata" and contains the instruction "Enter client information:". There are four input fields: "Licensee Contact:" with the text "Company Forester, RPF", "Contact Telephone:" with "2509999999", "Contact Email:" with "company_forester@industry.ca", and "Number of Attachments:" with "0". At the bottom are three buttons: "< Back", "Next >", and "Cancel". Green arrows point from the instructional boxes to the "Licensee Contact" field, the "Number of Attachments" field, and the "Next >" button.

Step 4b:

Enter the Number of Attachments. This should be zero (0) if you are only updating spatial information for an FSP or amendment already in the FSP Tracking System.

Step 4a:

Enter the client information:

- Licensee Contact—name of person who can be contacted about the FSP. Usually the person who signs the FSP
- Contact Telephone—phone number for Licensee Contact
- Contact Email—email address of the Licensee Contact
